

Special Sale for POPAI Global Members!

POPAI's The Power of Marketing at-Retail
Edited by Robert Liljenwall

Just $20 USD plus shipping

The updated version of the highly successful first industry-written and POPAI-published handbook covering all aspects of Marketing at-Retail is now on sale, making this the perfect time to stock up for your company reference library.

The Power of Marketing at-Retail is also the perfect inclusion in your corporate training programs or welcome packets for those new to the Marketing at Retail industry.

Written for both industry newcomers and those who want to keep abreast on the latest trends and techniques, chapters present topics such as materials and production methods, design and creativity, digital signage, industry globalization and many others.

Chapters are based upon content from POPAI's most popular industry training program, the POPAI University Masters series.

The information packed volume is written for Marketing at Retail professionals in marketing, advertising, design, sales, purchasing and production areas of the business.

The updated version includes new sections on at-retail digital signage, the store of the future, a colour photo section featuring award-winning displays and a CD-ROM containing a comprehensive industry glossary of more than 4,000 terms.

Sale Price: $20.00 U.S. plus shipping.

Contact Dietra Brandon at 703.373.8809 or via email at dbrandon@popai.com to take advantage of this special offer.

Click here to download a sample chapter Free!